Scottish Widows Managed Growth 6 L Acc

Fund Objective

The Fund aims to achieve capital growth by investing in a portfolio of collective investment schemes to achieve exposure to a wide range of investments, consisting of UK and Global shares, plus fixed interest securities and property assets with some exposure to absolute return strategies. We do not quote a benchmark or outperformance target for the Fund. This is because the asset allocation of the Fund will change over time. Many funds sold in the UK are grouped into sectors by the Investment Association (the trade body that represents UK investment managers) to help investors compare funds with broadly similar characteristics. Investors may wish to consider the performance of the Fund by looking at the performance of the "Flexible Investment Sector". The Fund may not always align with this sector and any changes will be notified via our website, accessible via the Fund Changes link below. Quarterly Fund Manager Review

It was a strong quarter for global shares as the US Federal Reserve signalled that interest rate cuts may be on the way for 2024. Developed markets outperformed emerging markets amid ongoing worries over China's real estate sector. Crude oil prices fell despite some output cuts. US shares registered strong gains in the final quarter of the year, buoyed by expectations that interest rate cuts may be approaching. The S&P 500 index ended the year just short of its record high set in early 2022. The final quarter of the year was also a strong one for eurozone shares, boosted by expectations that there may be no further interest rate rises. UK equities also rose over the quarter. Despite some weakness in October and December, Japanese shares also ended the quarter in positive territory. Asia ex Japan equities gained in the fourth quarter. Hopes that US interest rates may have peaked led to renewed investor appetite for risk assets across the region. The final quarter of the year was a very positive one for fixed income markets, marking their best quarterly performance in more than two decades, according to the Bloomberg Global Aggregate indices. Government bond yields fell sharply, and credit markets rallied, outperforming government bonds. The US 10-year Treasury yield fell from 4.57% at the end of Q3 to 3.87% at the end of Q4. The UK 10-year gilt yield fell from 4.44% to 3.54%, while the German 10-year Bund yield ended the quarter 0.81% lower at 2.03%. Despite a slowing growth outlook, the corporate bond market staged an impressive rally on hopes that a deep recession could be averted as financial conditions eased. Real estate markets have undergone significant repricing due to the new higher interest rate environment, inflation, geopolitical changes, and market fluctuations affecting investor allocations. Despite a slight softening in demand, occupational markets remain resilient due to tight supply conditions caused by high construction and debt financing costs, and a shortage of sustainability-compliant spaces. This situation is likely to spur growth in the medium term.
